Former Kaiser Will be Tried at London, Says Lloyd George

CRAFTS AT WORK FOR SUCCESS OF MEMORIAL DRIVE

SUBSTANTIAL GAINS ARE MADE OVER THE PREVIOUS DAYS RECORD.

To Pool the Funds

CHAIRMAN MOEBES FURNISHES SOLICITORS WITH THOUSAND MORE PLEDGE CARDS.

According to reports from the Louisville and Nashville shops, all the different crafts working within the big enclosure have representative at work for the success of the state Memorial Building in honor of its fighters and workers in the world war.

The latest addition to the working force is a committee from the Blacksmiths headed by A. H. Waltz, a member of their business committee. Mr. Waltz's report shows progress, and if other solicitors have done as well as he, substantial gains were made yesterday over the previous day.

No reports from the other workers were sent in.

There is a movement on foot among a number of different crafts men, following the appeal of President William L. Harrison, of the state Federation of Labor, for the soldier's and sailor's building in his speech Monday night, to pool the Memorial contributions of all the different organized workers of Albany, and thus insure a large showing for this patriotic object and incidentally find out the "giving strength" of the several labor organizations.

Chairman Otto Mosbes furnished the shops committees with an additional thousand of pledge cards yesterday, so as to facilitate the taking of the pledges.

According to the wish of the workers, it was reported, Master Mechanic Matthews granted two hours per day yesterday additional, in which to round up any who are slow to fall for the present opportunity to do well a great patriotic job. The official time for the Memorial drive closes with July 4th, but there is considerable sentiment in favor of continuing the campaign, at the shops at least, until the last penny needed is promised.

Moulton Fans to Set Games Here

The Moulton squad, which plays the Albany-Decatur team a double-header here on the Fourth, will be supported by a strong contingent of fans, it was learned today. The Moulton supporters are strong, the reorganized team now representing the Lawrence county capital, it is stated, and fully intend seeing the championship of North Alabama and Southern Tennessee come there.

Manager Hames announced today that his team is ready for the invaders. The "Y" ran through a stiff practice at the ball park yesterday afternoon. In batting practice "Red" Roberts, who found his batting eye at Lawrenceburg and hammered out hit after hit demonstrated to the fans out at the park yesterday that his hits were not of the "flake" variety for he hit everything thrown him to the fence.

DECISION CERTAIN IN TOLEDO FIGHT; THREE OFFICIALS

(By FRANK G. MENKE.)

TOLEDO, July 3.—"What's the news around here?" inquired a new arrival at Toledo.

"O, the big fight goes on tomorrow," was the answer. "Jess Willard, weighing 240 pounds and 6 feet, 7 inches tall, tackles Jack Dempsey, weighing 200 pounds and 6 feet, 2 inches in his scheduled 12-round fight. 'Will it go the limit?'"

"Very few think so," was the answer. "Both men are terrific hitters and the general belief is that the clash will terminate in a knockout before the ninth round."

"How does this three official plan work?" "Well, Ollie Pecord is the referee and Tex Richard and Maj. Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle are the judges. If the fight ends in a knockout or on a foul, Pecord will be the sole ruler, but if both men are on their feet at the end of the twelve rounds the master of ceremonies will go to one side of the ring and get the written decision of Richard and then to the other side and get that of Biddle.

"TAD" PICKS DEMPSEY

(By TAD.)

TOLEDO, July 3.—The editor has asked me to pick a winner in the big fight and tell the customers why I picked him. Well, I'll write as though I were writing to my betting commissioner. Here goes: "Dear Joe: Put the old bank roll on Dempsey. We may be wrong, but the dope points the other way. No heavy-weight champ that ever lived was a fighter after he passed the 31 year old mark. Sullivan was 34 when he lost to Corbett, Corbett was 31 when he lost to Fitzsimmons and Fitz was older than that when he lost to Jeffries. At 37 Johnson tried to beat Willard."

No arrests were made. The note was found by officials this morning and papers were taken out for search of the premises indicated.

TWIN CITIES TO LARGELY OBSERVE GLORIOUS FOURTH

NEARLY ALL STORES WILL BE CLOSED AND INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IDLE.

Parade in the Morning

PRIZE FIGHT DETAIL AND DOUBLE-HEADER AT BASEBALL PARK.

With business suspended and the entire town in holiday mood, Independence Day will be observed in the Twin Cities this year on a most pretentious scale.

The program for the day includes a big parade in the morning hours, followed by exercises at Riverview park and amusement contests, and a double-header in the afternoon and a leased wire detail of the Willard-Dempsey fight at the Baseball park. The detail will begin promptly at 3 o'clock, and immediately after its close Moulton and Albany-Decatur will meet on the diamond in the first contest of the double bill.

With the exception of the drug stores, practically all the mercantile establishments of both Albany and Decatur will be closed for the day. The union stores, for the first time, will keep their doors locked all day in observance of their contract with the retail clerks. The L. & N. shops will observe a holiday, as will other industrial plants. The post offices will also run on holiday schedule, and the rural route carriers will get a day off.

Birdmen Are Coming

Several aeroplanes, from the U. S. repair depot at Montgomery, are expected to arrive at the Albany landing field early on the morning of the fourth. The squadron of flyers will consist of ten men sent out by Major Knight. Exhibition flights will be given during the day. The aviators will leave Saturday morning for Cullman, according to announced plan.

A big parade will be one of the features of the celebration. It will be given under the auspices of the Albany Board of Commerce.

The parade will form on Ferry street, at 9:30 o'clock, facing north and the line of march will be from Ferry to Church, to Bank, to Lee, to Second avenue, to Fourth.

Sixth street to aviation field.

The parade will be made up as follows:

Band.

Mayors and councilmen of both Albany and Decatur.

Confederate and Union veterans in cars.

Fire departments of both Albany and Decatur.

Decorated automobiles.

Decorated trucks and floats.

Citizens afoot, including labor union.

Horseback riders.

Seneca Burr will be marshal of the parade.

Big Baseball Scrap

The ball game between the Lawrence county sluggers and the locals promises to be hotly contested. Rumors have come out of Moulton to the effect that the line-up has been strengthened by a number of pastimers of real ability, who are off for the holiday. It is stated that Moulton expects to get into the fight for the Alabama-Tennessee championship by annexing both games. Hames' humiliators, on the other hand, are in fine fettle and are looking forward confidently to victory. The home talent recently played a desperate series with Lawrenceburg, and in consequence the ball sap has risen to the top of the tube here. Twin City fans are behind the team and expect to show their appreciation by splendid patronage on the Fourth.

Prize Fight Detail

The detailing of the prize fight, blow by blow, has been made possible through the use of the I. N. S. leased wires, which connect direct with the roped arena at Toledo. Frank G. Menke, noted fight authority and sporting editor of the I. N. S., will flash the detail, giving every move that is made by the two contestants for the world's heavyweight belt. Interest in the bout has risen to white

Tomorrow is "Tag" Day; Help the Boys

Tomorrow is "tag day." Pretty girls, under the direction of Mrs. Ott Hames and Mrs. Walter Ezell, will get "tags" in behalf of the Albany-Decatur baseball club. The money secured will be used in improving the diamond and screening the grandstand. Everybody will be asked to "help the boys."

R-34 MORE THAN HALF WAY ACROSS; PROCEEDS SLOWLY

GREAT DIRIGIBLE MAY NOT REACH MINEOLA UNTIL EARLY SATURDAY.

Wireless is Working

LESS THAN 35 KNOTS AN HOUR IS BEING MADE BY HUGE CRAFT.

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, July 3.—The great British dirigible R-34 is approaching the American continent this afternoon, and will reach Newfoundland tomorrow morning and is due to arrive at Mineola Saturday morning.

(International News Service.)
LONDON, July 3.—The British airship R-34 had accomplished about 1,250 miles of her 2,965 miles (nautical miles) journey to Mineola, L. I., from East Fortune, Scotland, at 6:11 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time.

A wireless flash from Maj. Scott, the dirigible's commander, reported that at that hour the R-34 was a little more than half the distance from East Fortune to St. John's, N. F. The big air liner is speeding westward at an average rate of less than 35 knots. Unless she increases her speed, as she approaches the banks of New Foundland, it does not appear likely that she will reach Mineola before early Saturday morning.

Another message from the R-34 this morning reported her position as 1,334 miles out.

Germans Will Ratify

EXPECTED TO O. K. PEACE TREATY AT WEIMAR ON NEXT SATURDAY.

(International News Service.)
LONDON, July 3.—Premier Lloyd George this afternoon laid the text of the German peace treaty before the house of commons and at the same time announced that the ex-kaiser will be tried before an international tribunal sitting in London. He also made the first official announcement in commons that the U. S. and England have pledged themselves to go to the immediate aid of France if France is made the object of an unprovoked act of aggression by Germany.

The Anglo-French defensive pact, with a copy of the Franco-American pact attached, was submitted to commons with the text of the general treaty signed at Versailles last Saturday. In addition to the Kaiser all other persons "supremely responsible for the war" will be brought to trial before the international tribunal, the prime minister added. His announcement will be a death blow to the German element which had hoped the allies would accept Dr. Bethmann-Holweg's offer to substitute himself for the ex-kaiser for trial for war responsibilities.

The prime minister continued with an explanation of the terms of the treaty and the methods for its execution. He listed the guarantees for Germany's disarmament and the destruction of her arsenals.

(International News Service.)

PARIS, July 3.—The text of the defensive pact between France, the U. S. and Great Britain was given out at the French foreign office last night, despite Secretary Lansing's statement at an early hour that it could not be made public until it had been communicated to the U. S. Senate.

The French press enthusiastically welcomed the confirmation of the existence of the pact and expressed hope that the president will induce the senate to ratify it.

MOST GLORIOUS FOURTH

The "glorious Fourth" has long been widely celebrated by the American people, and the observance has always carried with it a noisy and patriotic expression of appreciation for the independence of the nation. This year, however, the Fourth will be more glorious still, for it will symbolize also the releasing of the entire world from threatened bondage, and that by the service men of the republic that but a few centuries ago was only a wilderness. Just as at Thanksgiving it is in order to be grateful for blessings received, so on Independence day it is appropriate to take stock of accomplishments and to be a bit cheery and vain. That American who tomorrow does not recall that his country has just emerged successfully from the world's greatest war, that its armies have vanquished the most insistent and unscrupulous military machine ever perfected, and that the Stars and Stripes have become the symbol of democracy everywhere, will be just a bit deficient in egotism. He should be examined by some reputable physician. It is not wise to be proud, yet the individual or the nation that is without confidence, and is not convinced of its invincibility when battling in the cause of right, is already defeated. The American soldiers, sailors and marines knew that they could lick the Kaiser and his crowd; and because of their faith in themselves were more than able to execute their task to their own satisfaction. In celebrating this "most glorious Fourth," every citizen is paying a tribute not only to the forefathers who fought so well and planned so astutely, but also to their assigns and successors who had the stamina to preserve and to defend the priceless heritage of liberty entrusted to their care.

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW: A NOTABLE WOMAN

As a rule the man who toils for many years, finally acquires a competence, builds a new house and settles down to enjoy the fruits of his labor, is picked off by the Grim Reaper. And by the same hard-luck token, the pioneer who blazes the trail, endures hardships untold and works unceasingly, "goes west" just in time for someone else to profit from his labors. This "irony of fate," which applies to both sexes, swept Carrie Nation into the Great Beyond before national temperance became an assured fact, and it has also claimed Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the noted suffragist, just as her dream of years was on the verge of realization.

As president and as honorary president of the National American Woman's Suffrage association, Dr. Shaw was perhaps the most noted campaigner in the cause of votes for women on this side the Atlantic. She was more than that, however, for she was also a patriot of the highest calibre, a woman of remarkable vision, and her last work was done in behalf of the League of Nations, in which she believed as firmly as she did in temperance and suffrage. Her life was an inspiration to the immigrant girl, just as the lives of many American men have been the beacon torch that led alien boys who had come to this land of liberty on to success and fame.

Coming to the United States with her parents at the age of four years, she was a product of the wilderness. Inspired by ambition, she taught school for $4.00 a week and walked eight miles to her task; then she starved her way through school, was the first woman ordained to the ministry by the Methodist Episcopal Church, and later became a leader of the temperance and suffrage forces.

The woman of today—the intellectual woman who aspires to more than kitchen drudgery—owes Dr. Shaw a debt of gratitude. She helped to break down the barriers that man, through prejudice and a misconception of her fitness, has reared against woman.

Other Editors SayWILL SOLVE ITSELF

The Albany-Decatur Daily reports the presence of ninety-two barrels of high grade whiskey sidetracked in the freight yards there owing to some misunderstanding as to destination. It was ordered by New Orleans dealers for hurry delivery to tide them over the last day before war-time prohibition took effect and now the railroad authorities, having failed to deliver on time, are puzzled over the question of what to do with it. Unless it is well guarded in the meantime the problem will solve itself after a few days of drought in Albany-Decatur—Huntsville Telegram.

JUST IN PASSING

OUTLOOK IS GOOD
(Tri-Cities Daily.)

Concerning the development of interest in the great state highway under projection, connecting the eastern and western counties of the state, President Archer, of the Sheffield-Muscle Shoals club, said this morning: "I have just returned from Albany-Decatur, and the interest aroused there and in that vicinity is very gratifying. A movement was started there some days ago which resulted in the incorporation of a company to build a bridge across the Tennessee at that point.

"One capitalist there," he continued, "announced that he would personally donate $10,000 toward the building of the structure. In fact," said Mr. Archer, "the people there are going to build the bridge, and what they said to me was, 'You take care of the highway through Colbert county and leave crossing the Tennessee to us. We will take care of that.'"

This is splendid news that Mr. Archer brings, for it will give every man in Colbert county who is interested in building the great highway an added incentive to work."

WAS A GOOD FELLOW

Many people now living in the Decatur will remember Harvey Crocker and his cousin Roy C. Brown, and the recent visit of Mrs. Crocker—Harvey's mother—has brought out a story that will be interesting to many people here.

"It seems that both Harvey Crocker and Roy Brown were above the draft age yet both of them volunteered for the war, but their services were more valuable to the government as war workers in the shipping department in which both of them held high positions.

It appears that Roy C. Brown was to be transferred to another department of the Mobile Shipping Company and his fellow workers determined to give him a fine gold watch as a testimonial of the esteem in which they all held him.

When the men were asked to subscribe for this testimonial they came in with a vim—saying for "he is a damn fine fellow, and when the watch was presented there was engraved on its inside plate:

Presented to Roy C. Brown, "A Damn Fine Fellow" (date, Mobile).

There was more or less secrecy in the shipping department during the war and so the story did not get out at the time. Both Harvey Crocker and Roy C. Brown hold very important offices. Roy Brown is now at Mobile and Harvey Crocker is in Illinois.

HARD FOR WILLARD

"Willard may be in excellent condition for his battle with Dempsey," said Dr. F. P. Pettie, well known physician, "but it would be unusual for a man of his age to get into condition in the time he has been training for a pace as fast as Dempsey will set. Willard has most unusual physical qualifications but age is bound to tell on him soon and it may be Friday."

WANTS BIG BUILDING

"I have noticed with considerable interest that both Albany and Decatur are planning new high school buildings," said a well-known citizen. "In view of the fact that there is a strong probability that the two towns may be consolidated, I trust that both will defer the building of new high schools until this is accomplished, and then erect a structure that will be creditable to the Greater City and conveniently located to both the present towns."

Nature Is C'witted

The man who invented the sewing machine achieved what he was after when he stopped trying to imitate the human hand. If you go into a factory you will see machines doing things which only human skill could do but a short time ago, but the processes are quite different from the manual method. The inventors have risen superior to the formulae that nature would seem to have laid down for them.

Gone Forever

In the meantime, what has become of the old fashioned man who gave away all the pennies he received to children?

100,000 Prescriptions Were Filled Before "40" Was Discovered

J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., spent 40 years in the drug business, compounded over 100,000 prescriptions from physicians educated in Europe and America before "Number 10 For The Blood" was discovered; the great specific for all blood diseases. Successfully employed in diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, mercurial and lead poisoning, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, hepatic congestions, dyspepsia and stomach troubles, sores, ulcers, nodes, tumors and scrofulous swellings that have withstood all other treatment yield to "No 40."

THIS GADSDEN LADY'S STRENGTH RESTORED AGAIN

She Was Weak, Run-down, Nervous, Could Not Sleep. Suffered From Constipation, Liver and Kidney Troubles—All Praise Given Drecto.

"For months my 19 year old daughter has been breaking down in health and growing weak all the time. Her nerves were all on edge; could not sleep, bowels were bound up and liver sluggish and dull; pains were in every joint, and her back ached all the time and she was very nervous.

"A friend visiting me one day persuaded me to try the new medicine, Drecto. She said many people were praising it for the good it was doing in cases just like hers. I bought a bottle and am happy to say that she is in better health today than in years. Drecto fitted her case exactly and overcame her troubles, and I am proud to praise it to every one. It is grand medicine and I will always have a good word to say for Drecto." This is the statement of Mr. J. L. Griffin, the well known farmer on route three, Gadsden, Ala.

Drecto is composed of the juices and extracts of many different roots, herbs, barks and berries, which act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and purify the blood. It relieves constipation, prevents gas forming in the stomach; increases the appetite; induces sound, refreshing sleep; banishes catarrh of the head, and takes the pain out of rheumatic joints.

Drecto is now sold by all good druggists and is highly recommended in Albany by Albany Drug Co., and in Decatur by Hilda Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Reason and Emotion.
What a mysterious conflict that is between the reasoning power, which keeps pointing out the right road, and an ill-regulated emotional faculty, which seeks to draw one along the wrong road. Indulging the wrong habits always makes the upward path so much steeper and the downward path so much easier. How fortunate that man is whose false steps are arrested by a friendly touch of common sense disguised in a blast of satire!—Sir George Reid.

Invented Duplex Telegraph.
Dr. Wilhelm Glöth of Austria invented the duplex telegraph in 1853, by which two messages were sent over one wire, one message in each direction, at the same time. Carl Fischen of Hanover improved the system in 1854, and Joseph B. Stearns of Boston perfected it in 1872.

PRIZED OLD RIFLE

Weapon Long Preserved as Heirloom in Family.

Belonged to John Ferril, Who Used It
With Effect in Indian Wars of Kentucky—Passive During Civil War.

There is a story of the American rifle that has been handed down in the hearthstone history and traditions of those who for generations have lived in the West. It begins with the Greenbrier region of Virginia of colonial times, thence into Kentucky, to Missouri in the days of Upper Louisiana, thence to the great prairies of the far West and on to California.

The family rifle was dear and sacred. John and Margaret Ferril and their family were with a party of pioneers from the Greenbrier region who migrated to Kentucky in the early days. Owing to the hostilities of the Indians, they were armed and under the command of Capt. Jacob Baughman, a brother of Margaret Ferril.

They "packed" on horses over the Alleghany mountains and when in camp at or near Crab Orchard, Ky., were attacked in the night by Indians. In the fight that ensued Capt. Baughman, John Ferril and others were killed, but the men held back the Indians long enough to enable some of the women and children to escape. Among the number thus saved were Margaret Ferril, a son, John Ferril, and two daughters; and also Mrs. Jacob Baughman, a son Henry of tender age, and two daughters.

The Baughman-Ferril fight, or massacre, occurred in the fall of 1779. John Ferril, then fourteen years old, who had escaped, swore an oath of revenge on his rifle. He kept that vow, and his rifle became a bloody one in the Indian wars of Kentucky.

In the Boone Lick region of Missouri, now Howard county, in 1812, were built several forts for protection against Indians, especially the Shawnee and Foxes and the Pottawatomies. John Ferril and family were in one of them, known as Fort Cooper. He here still possessed his old Kentucky rifle. After the war of 1812, in addition to farming, he often engaged in hunting expeditions up the Missouri and Kansas rivers, and sometimes far out on the great prairies.

Over a century ago he hunted bear and other game on what is now the site of Kansas City. He and other frontiersmen then predicted that a great city would be founded on the confluence of the Missouri and Kansas rivers.

The old rifle of John Ferril has been preserved. During the Civil war, when the authorities were collecting all the guns in Saline county, Missouri; they seized the old Ferril rifle. Keziah Ferril, then about ninety years old, cried and begged that it be not taken. Her sons and grandsons were wearing the blue and gray and a compromise was effected. It was agreed that this old rifle should be hid away, and thus the old Ferril rifle became a noncombatant in the Civil war. It later passed to the possession of Jesse Ferril, county judge, son of Henry Ferril, who founded Miami, Mo. On the death of Judge Jesse Ferril the rifle was passed on as an heirloom to his brother, John Ferril, who had been a soldier from Saline county with Doniphan's Missouri in the Mexican war. John Ferril died some months ago at his home in Exeter, Cal.

Boys Drowned, Cat Rescued.

The bodies were found in a tragic manner at Port Elizabeth, North Africa, recently when two young boys who attempted to cross a cat—at the request of the animal's owner—were themselves drowned in a small bay about three miles from the city. The cat straggled when the lads tried to hold its head under the waves and before the boys realized their danger they were swept out to sea by the outgoing tide. The cat escaped from the water and returned to its home.

Great Mangrove Swamps.

Mindoro, one of the larger islands of the Philippine group, is a province by itself and contains 3,983 square miles. It is distant from Manila a little more than 100 miles. Along the shores of this island are more than 30,000 acres of mangrove swamps, with large trees in practically virgin growth, conservatively estimated to yield 50,000 tons of bark readily convertible into approximately 17,000 tons of cutch. Just why this growth should have remained untouched for so long is not explained.

Mercurius.

In the mythology of ancient pagan Rome Mercurius, or Mercury, to give the English form of the Latin name, was the divinity of commerce and gain, and was identified by the Romans with the Greek Hermes. A temple was built to Mercurius as early as B. C. 493, near the Circus Maximus, and an altar of the god existed near the Porta Capena by the side of a well. His festival was celebrated on May 25, and chiefly by merchants who visited the well near the Porta Capena to which magic powers were ascribed.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. All Thieves There.

Superintendent Quinn of Scotland Yard, who retired a few weeks ago, once remarked quizzically that if a man wanted to go in for picking pockets he could not select a better place for the operation than Seven Dials, London.

"Why?" queried an interested listener. "Well, you see," replied Quinn, "supposing the pickpocket is detected in the act, he will naturally start to run away."

"Naturally! But what then?" "Then," pursued Quinn, "somebody is sure to shout 'Stop thief!'"

"Very probably," retorted his interlocutor. "But what then?" "Why, then," concluded Quinn, triumphantly, "he will get away. For directly the cry of 'Stop thief!' is raised in the Seven Dials, everybody instinctively starts running, and nobody can tell which is the particular thief who is wanted."

Queer Ideas of Yank Slang.

England, which has a richness of slang that is surprising to an American, is convinced that United States is a different language from English, because it is more highly embellished. Being so convinced, English newspapers are picking up and "playing" many new discoveries in the slang line. Their latest discovery is that the latest American slang is "I. D. K.," which is a short and curt way of answering "I don't know" to the limitless fool questions asked by rookies in the army. The first sergeant, it is reported, has been shorn of some of his glory and shortened to merely "the top."

The Arab as a Neighbor.

The Arab makes a good neighbor. His love of the beautiful in architecture is evidenced in a hundred cities where his handiwork survives. Every visitor to Granada knows what was left behind at the Alhambra. When the Arab met Rome, he produced Palmyra; having absorbed the Sassanian dynasty of the neo-Persian empire in 637, the Arab created Bagdad; in overrunning Spain, he worked magic at Cordova and Seville.

DEADLY ANT ARMY

No Creature Can Remain in Path of Horde and Live.

Naturalist, Himself Not Immune From Danger, Tells of Incidents He Saw as He Watched the Progress of the Insects.

I was dozing quietly in my hammock, glad to escape for an instant the insistent screaming of a cicada which seemed to have gone mad in the jungle heat, when a low rustling caught my ear—a sound of moving leaves without wind; the voice of a breeze in the midst of breathless heat, writes William Beebe, in the Atlantic Monthly. There was in it something sinister and foreboding. I leaned over the edge of my hammock, and saw coming toward me, in a broad, irregular front, a great army of ants, battalion after battalion of them flowing like a sea of living motes over twigs and leaves and stems.

I knew the danger and I half sat up, prepared to roll out and walk to one side. Then I gauged my supporting strands; tested them until they vibrated and hummed, and lay back, watching, to see what would come about. I knew that no creature in the world could stay in the path of this horde and live. To kill an insect or a great bird would require only a few instants, and the death of a jaguar or a tapir would mean only a few more. Against this attack, claws, teeth, poison fangs would be idle weapons.

In the van fled a cloud of terrified insects—those gifted with flight to wing their way far off, while the humbler ones went running headlong, their legs, four, six or a hundred, making the swiftest pace vouchsafed them. There were foolish folk who climbed up low ferns, achieving the swaying, topmost fronds only to be trailed by the savage ants and brought down to instant death.

Even the winged ones were not immune, for if they hesitated a second, an ant would seize upon them, and, although carried into the air, would not loosen his grip, but cling to them, obstruct their flight, and perhaps bring them to earth in the heart of the jungle, where, cut off from their kind, the single combat would be waged to the death. From where I watched, I saw massacres innumerable; terrible battles in which some creature—a giant beside an ant—fought for his life, crushing to death scores of the enemy before giving up.

They were a merciless army and their number was countless, with host upon host following close on each other's heels. A horde of warriors found a bird in my game bag, and left it hardly a feather. I wondered whether they would discover me, and they did, though I think it was more by accident than by intention. Nevertheless a half dozen ants appeared on the foot strands, nervously twiddling their antennae in my direction. Their appraisal was brief; with no more than a second's delay they started toward me. I waited until they were well on their way, then vigorously twanged the cords under their harpwise, sending all the scouts into midair and headlong down among their fellows. So far as I know, this was a revolutionary maneuver in military tactics, comparable only to the explosion of a set mine.

But even so, when the last of this brigade had gone on their menacing, pitiless way, and the danger had passed to a new province, I could not help thinking of the certain, inexorable fate of a man who, unable to move from his hammock or to make any defense, should be thus exposed to their attack. There could be no help for him if but one of this great host should scent him out and carry the word back to the rank and file.

Beet and Wheat Food Value.

That there is more food value in one acre of beets than in four of wheat is the contention of German agricultural scientists.

Fatigue and Toxin.

The idea that fatigue is due to a specific toxin, as suggested by Welch early in the century, has been a popular one, but the late investigation of Lee and Aronovich at Columbia university shows it to have no good foundation. There is nothing, therefore, to encourage the hope that an apitoxin may be found. In the experiments made with animal muscles, a test muscle suspended in the juice of a fatigued muscle lost much in contractile power, but the juice of a non-fatigued muscle produced substantially the same effect.

Best Kind of Play is Work.

One of the best kinds of play is work. Many of the elements of play enter into work. It is performed in the right spirit. The most satisfying forms of play are those in which interest is excited; competition, with desire to succeed and accomplish some definite end, makes the game worth playing. Work is fatiguing and distasteful when it is lacking in these elements.

TO PALE PEOPLE— YOUR BLOOD MAY BE STARVING FOR IRON!

If Your Blood Needs Iron, It Needs ZIRON, the New Compound of Iron, Which Acts as a Strengthening Tonic, Enriching the Blood and Building up the System.

When your blood lacks the proper proportion of red corpuscles to give your complexion the "rosy hue of health" and your complexion is pale, "pasty-looking", perhaps even greenish-tinged, you are probably of an anemic or chlorotic nature, and your blood needs Ziron, to bring back the rich, red flush of health.

Ziron, the new compound of iron, the hypophosphites of lime and soda, and other tonic, strengthening ingredients, has been found of great value in conditions of simple anemia, chlorosis, debility, nervousness, lack of ambition, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, etc. It is a valuable reconstructive tonic, in cases of weakness, and helps build up the constitution after severe illness.

Mrs. Mac Belle Perkins, of Adairsville, Ga., writes: "About two months ago I got to feeling badly. My back hurt me badly, and my legs and arms hurt too, and I didn't have any appetite at all to eat. About two weeks ago I commenced taking Ziron, according to directions on the bottle... By the time I had taken the medicine for a week, I could see it was doing me good. I had been weak and nervous, and it made me feel stronger, and I'm not a bit nervous now. My back is all right, and my arms and legs do not ache. And my appetite is good again."

Before I started using Ziron I wouldn't rest at night, I was so tired feeling and felt worn out. I have used nearly the whole bottle and now I sleep fine every night. It sure is a fine medicine, and I am glad I tried it."

Ziron is non-alcoholic, contains no habit-forming drugs, acts gently, has no bad effects, is good for men, women and children. It is a medicine of genuine composed of ingredients prescribed by eminent physicians. Try it.

SPECIAL OFFER: Buy a bottle of ZIRON, today, at your druggist's and give it a fair trial, according to directions on the label. After using up one bottle, if you find it has not benefited you, take it back to the druggist and he will refund what you paid him for it. We repay him, so there is no reason why he should not. This offer only applies to the first trial bottle.

GOING UP!

Prices will be higher by fall

Chicago, June 27, 1919.

SPEAKE, ECHOLS & SPEAKE,
Albany, Ala.
Gentlemen:—

Since you made your purchase for fall, prices have advanced considerably and all clothing has gone up from $1.00 to $5.00 per suit, and in our opinion, a medium priced and a higher grade suit will not be less than $10.00 more before the Fall season opens. This is due to the mills charging from 50c to $1.50 more per yard for woollens than their opening price, and manufacturing costs being at least one-third more than were figured on. Linings have advanced from 50 to 100 per cent.

Your order is having our best attention and nothing will be left undone to give you good service.

Very truly yours,
MAYER BROTHERS,
Men's Clothing

Believing that prices would go higher after it was an evident fact that the peace treaty would be signed, we THEN took advantage of early buying for both our Albany and Decatur stores, which NOW enables us to give you shoes and clothing at a much cheaper price than some who have put off their buying up to this time. We will not advance on any merchandise that we now have in our stores, and will give the public the benefit of our early buying for fall.

New High Mark for

(International News Service.)

The advance of boxing as a remunerative profession is shown by the size of the purses offered for the most important ring battles that have been fought over a period of seventy-nine years.

Boy Scouts Leave
For Camp July 11

WILL GO DOWN RIVER FOR TEN DAYS STAY.

The Albany Boy Scouts, Troop No. 1, at a call meeting Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A., decided that their annual camp shall be spent down the river. The Scouts will leave on July 11, and will return about July 20.

Scoutmaster T. A. Bowles will be in charge of the boys, and I. J. Kuhn will go along to lend his ability to hold the boys in check. The boys have decided that they will take the same cook as last year if possible, so they will try and secure Ben Hayes, who is an old favorite with the scouts and who has also demonstrated his ability as a cook. Ben will probably be assisted by those young helpers who deem it best to refrain from carrying water, in obedience to orders from a higher authority.

The boys in command of the different companies are: Richard Nelson, Malcolm Patterson, A. C. Bailey, Sam Hollingsworth, Adolph Feyerabend and Barrett Shelton.

Recent Spanish Inventions.

Recent inventions reported by Carl Bailey Hurst, American consul general at Barcelona, include a straw compound as a substitute for coal for locomotives and agricultural tractors, as it develops sufficient heat in thirty minutes, and the ashes make an excellent fertilizer. This is invented by Joaquin Estevan, the engineer. Another patent is by Thomas Roca of Las Palmas, on a process for the use of banana fibre for textiles, yarns and cords as a substitute for hemp.

Becomes His Mother's Uncle.

His own mother's uncle, his grandfather's brother and a great-uncle to his half-brother is the peculiar status of five-year-old Irving Tucker, who was adopted by his great-grandmother, Mrs. Johanna Freitag of Mount Vernon.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Mabel Hauser, agreed to the legal adoption. He has lived with his adopted mother since the death of his father, more than four years ago.—Brooklyn Eagle.
